Mexican Forces are Attempting to Cut Retreat of Fugitive Mexican Bandits.

Bombs Reach Border and will be Used Against Bandits, if Located.

Dickman Still Wants to Hand That $6,500 to the Bandits

(By Associated Press.)

Marfa, Texas, August 23.—Two forces of troops, Carranza federals operating far to the south, and American cavalry further north, today are scouring the Conchos river region of Mexico in an endeavor to clear that section of bandits.

Five known dead bandits is the net result of the expedition at the beginning of the fifth day of operations. More rapid progress in the pursuit of the outlaws was expected today.

Major General Dickman, commander of the Southern Department, left last night for San Antonio, after completing an inspection of the border. Before leaving, he said an effort would be made to pay the bandits the $6,500 remaining of the ransom money for the aviators, though he did not say just how this would be done.

Rumors of further bandit captures and bombing of bandit strongholds, which found circulation yesterday, proved unfounded, but the possibility of using bombs in wiping out the bandits developed with the arrival of aerial bombs for experimental purposes, and an announcement that these might be used if a bandit force should be found in any considerable numbers.

are enlisting sympathy for their cause. They ask better salaries and pay while rehearsing for new plays and parts. They are picketing the New York theaters.

Such is Act of Foreign Relations Committee in Drastic Amendment Adopted.

Vote to Insert Word "China" Instead of "Japan" Disposing of Shantung.

Committee Asks President for Treaty with Poland and Other Data.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, August 23.—By a vote of nine to eight, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today adopted an amendment to the peace treaty by which German rights in Shantung province, China, would go to China instead of to Japan.

All the Democratic members and Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, voted against the amendment.

Chairman Lodge offered the amendment, under which the word "Japan" would be stricken from the Shantung sections of the treaty and the word "China" substituted.

The committee also instructed Chairman Lodge to request President Wilson to send the Shantung treaty between the United States and Poland and signed June 23 at Versailles, and such information as he has regarding the treaties now under negotiation with Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey. Without taking up any other proposed amendments the committee adjourned until Monday.

The Shantung amendment is expected by leaders on both sides to develop greater strength than any other on the Senate floor. Democratic leaders say they have the vote to defeat it but the Republicans claim it will be adopted.

After the meeting Chairman Lodge said he did not know to what extent the request for more information might interfere with plans of leaders for quick action on the treaty and declined to predict when the committee would be able to report to the Senate.

He said that while there was a movement in the committee for a report next week he had never expressed any opinion as to whether action would be taken.

The committee, he said, was making every effort to report as soon as practicable but had been delayed by being compelled to get information which should have been in its hands officially weeks ago.

$500 AND COSTS AND SIX MONTHS FINE GIVEN DAILY

After overruling a motion for a new trial in the case of Ohio against John Daily, of this city, Probate Judge Frank M. Allen Saturday morning passed sentence upon Daily, fining him $500 and costs (nearly $600) and sentencing him to six months in the Fayette county jail.

The sentence was for non-support, a charge upon which Daily recently was convicted after trial before a jury.

The Court, in passing sentence gave Daily a severe lecturing, and declared that it was the Court's belief that the fact that two of the convicted man's children are now in the feeble minded institution of the state was due chiefly to Daily's failure to furnish them with plenty of nutritious food and proper clothing.

The Court also told Daily that part of the jail sentence might be suspended if he placed his home in something like proper condition and kept it that way, and furnished better food in the home.

"I admire the man who saves part of his wages for the days of adversity," said Judge Allen, "but I have no use for the man who starves and neglects his family in order to save every cent he can through selfish motives."

Notice has been given by the convicted man's attorneys, Gregg, Patton & Gregg, that the case will be carried to the common pleas court.

HAVE YOU READ?

Bolshevism by John Spargo?—an outline of the origin, history and meaning of Bolshevism. In order to avoid confusion the author has not mentioned the numerous manifestations in other lands, but has limited himself to the Russian situation. It is not a sensational expose, but a serious study, and the only charges made against the Bolshevik government are proved from their own official documents, and the writings and addresses of accredited Bolshevik leaders.

Mr. Spargo concludes with the following paragraph:

"And just as the world of civilized mankind recognized Prussian militarism as its deadly enemy, to be overcome at all costs, so, too, Bolshevism must be overcome. And that can best be done, not by attempting to drown it in blood, but by courageously and consistently setting ourselves to the task of removing the social oppression, the poverty, and the servitude which produce the desperation of soul that drives men to Bolshevism. The remedy for Bolshevism is a sane and far-reaching program of constructive social democracy."

Change or Bosses

About three decades ago, may be not so long a time as that or perhaps a little longer, a powerful capitalist of that day, who had large holdings in public utilities, coined that phrase we have all heard so often: "the public be damned." That was when the public of the United States, in whose interest the public utilities are supposed to be operated, became restless under the decline of service rendered and the advance in cost.

That was in a day when capitalists were "in the saddle" riding rough shod over the rights of the people, ignoring the demand of the public for justice and reform or disposing of every request with "the public be damned."

The public refused to be disposed of in that manner and those autocratic capitalists were dethroned.

Sometimes we fear we have gone too far in our campaigns against capital and that, in some instances, we fail to realize that a change has been wrought, the old defiant spirit is gone and that we are hurting ourselves by imposing too many restrictions on capital.

Be that as it may, however, it is certain that some of the leaders of organized labor have become just as inconsiderate of the rights of the public as some of the capitalists formerly were.

It is a sort of a "the public be damned" attitude of some of the leaders which should point out to honest labor the pitfall into which it has fallen.

The public will refuse to obey the orders of the labor bosses just as certainly as it refused to obey that of the captains of capital.

The people have a way in America of obtaining their rights. No boss whether of capital or labor can condemn them to serfdom. The public interest must be served and anyone who refuses to do it will be less powerful but much wiser in a surprisingly short time.

Sugar Control Assumed

Once again the federal government assumes control of the sale of sugar for the announced purpose of holding down the price to the consumer and assuring the supply to the sugar users of America.

Practically the whole raw sugar supply of the United States and Cuba passed under the control of the federal government. The great refineries will receive their supply from the government at a price fixed and work it up into the refined sugar for market at a margin of profit to be fixed by the government. Jobbers and retailers, too, will again come under the jurisdiction of the federal authorities in its latest effort to control supply and demand.

Perhaps in no other food commodity is a better opportunity offered to the authorities to obtain results, beneficial to the consumers, than it is in sugar.

The supply and the market has been for a long time controlled by a numerically small but financially powerful organization. The raw material, the refineries and therefore the supply of sugar has been securely within the grasp of a very compact but nicely working organization.

That condition, which seems to have, in the past, worked a hardship on the consumers, appears, at this time one of very great assistance to the government in striking out to remedy conditions.

The compact organization enables the government to make a concentrated effort free from that scattering of energies so fatal to so many of the movements in behalf of the public.

We Have Difficulty

It is not difficult to realize, in the confusion of the multitude of problems which are confronting Americans today, the difficulty we have with the conflicting statements, the irreconcilable arrays of conflicting "facts" compiled and published for our enlightenment, why the poor ignorant Russians are having such an appalling time trying to work out of the whirlpool of social and industrial ills which has engulfed them.

In America we choose our public servants by a free expression of our preferences at the ballot box. We are educated, we have every agency for the dissemination of news, we know exactly what we want and have the machinery to get what we want in our hands every moment of the time. We have the intelligence to work out these problems, the opportunity to do so and the means to right conditions, when they go wrong, but the confusion we are in right now is amazing.

We will work out of it all right, but the difficulties we are having in getting things settled with all our prosperity, happiness and opportunity should increase our patience for the poor struggling, ignorant Russian masses who haven't the means to get at the facts, the ability nor the instruments of power to work out reforms even when they finally settle down upon the necessary course.

Our problems are difficult, but how much more difficult are those of the Russians with all their handicaps.

POETRY FOR TODAY

WINDS OF NIGHT

Sighing winds, and the sun sinks low—
Oh, sing a sincere!
For life is sad, I know, I know;
All human hearts grow weary!
Sobbing winds, and the night is here,
Is here with her ancient moan;
Ah, God, how filled with ruth and fear
Is the soul that fares alone!
Winds of night, and a star set low,
Whisper of peace to be;
For there is rest, they tell me so,
In the calm of Eternity!

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

With the enlistment of Ohio women's organizations in the Thrift campaign, a well mobilized army, veterans of two years war work, as great in numbers as Ohio's contribution to the A. E. F. is placed at the disposal of the Ohio War Savings Committee.

In every community women have learned that concerted effort means multiplied and concrete results. In every city, town and village the natural leaders of women citizens found themselves during the war and it is to their enthusiastic generalship that the food administration and the Red Cross owe their far reaching success. With the new impetus of the vote in sight, the organized club woman becomes still a more important factor. From now on every trained woman and many an untrained one will take a personal and active interest in community, state and national affairs.

Local woman's clubs are to be called ed upon to do all in their power to replace the great American pro-war characteristic, extravagance, with Thrift, which means getting a dollars worth for every dollar you spend, saving steadily and investing your savings safely.

Ohio women who are just concluding drives in many Ohio counties for War Savings Stamps have been unusually successful. With many counties still to be heard from, sales amounting to more than $1,000,000 have been reported. Many counties were delayed in their work because farmers at the present time are very busy and because money will be more readily available in the fall. Mrs. F. O. Barton, chairman of the Muskingum county Women's War Savings organization secured the best per capita showing, her pledges amounting to $211.26 per person, while Mrs. W. O. Johnston in Licking county topped all with a total of $196,000.

The distinctive interest of the occasion, charming social features and beautiful music combined to make the reception given by the officers of the First Presbyterian Church for Rev. William Boynton Gage and Rev. J. L. McWilliams Friday evening a brilliant success and one of the most pleasurable in the churches' social annals.

In the fullest sense it was a delightful reunion of pastor and people after the years separation in which Rev. Gage had been engaged in overseas service and, an imposing figure in his khaki uniform, worn for the last time by special request, the minister responded heartily to the warm congratulations over his safe return to civilian life.

It was also a gratifying opportunity for a farewell visit with the acting pastor, Rev. J. L. McWilliams, who with his family, have become so much a part of Washington's life that their return to Wilmington is felt an inestimable loss, only lessened by the hope that they may consider this city a desirable location for their future home.

Both Mrs. Gage and Mrs. McWilliams were in the receiving line with the ministers and the church officers and shared in the honors of the evening.

All the ministers of the city and numerous friends of other congregations had cast aside other interests to join with those of the Presbyterian congregation and several hundred people mingled in a sociability that was out of the ordinary in its spontaneity.

The large auditorium and connecting Sunday School rooms elaborately decorated with the flowers of early autumn, provided attractive setting for the reception and Miss Lillian Davis and Miss Ruth Reid contributed generously to the pleasure in most artistically rendered organ and piano solos.

Downstairs the large dining room was all cheer and beauty, immense jardinières of black-eye Susans in effective arrangement and a lovely tea table, daintily in appointment, having for its centerpiece a large bowl of callendums. Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton and Miss Rose McLean poured.

The ladies of the Guild assisted the officers and took over the entire management of the dining room, serving a delicious collation.

The Executive Committee, Mrs. J. E. Dennis, President, and Mrs. Frank S. Jackson chairman of serving, had the arrangements in charge.

Both downstairs and up stairs guests lingered long after the reception hours. An unusual and interesting collection of souvenirs which Rev. Gage brought home were on display.

At a quiet home wedding of the utmost simplicity and informality, Miss Rose McLean was united in marriage to Mr. S. A. Hoskins, of Columbus, at half past one o'clock Saturday afternoon.

A delightful social hour with a dainty luncheon served, followed in the banquet hall. The tea table was very pretty, its central adornment marigolds.

Mrs. G. M. Paul was in charge of the social hour.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Brannon, of Chicago and Mrs. Boylan, Worthy Matron, La Pierre, Mich., chapter, were appreciated guests and gave short talks.

Mrs. O. D. Maddox delightfully entertained sixteen young girls with a theatre party at the Colonial theatre Friday afternoon, for her attractive niece, Helen Richenbach, of Cincinnati.

After the matinee Mrs. Maddox took the guests to Jimmie Miller's Confectionery, where delicious refreshments were served. The table was prettily arranged, with carnations as favors.

The guests included: Helen Miller, Mary Alice Davis, Maxine Clark, Clara Davis, Mary Kathryn Junk, Elizabeth Cline, Frances McCoy, Vinde Rean Connor, Helen and Urcel Cline, Virginia Hays, Bonnie Lynn Sollars, Ludee Ladd, Helen Rodecker and Jean Michaels.

Miss Marguerite Wilson took the bride and the bride is a member of one of Washington's old and prominent families, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McLean and a woman of very attractive personality, who has been actively identified with Washington's social, club, church circles and has taken a helpful part in philanthropic and Red Cross work. Her friends here are many and warm and, while extending heartsome good wishes, are very loathe to lose her and inclined to bear a bit of a grudge to the bridegroom for taking her away.

Mr. Hoskins is a well-known lawyer of Columbus.

Washington friends will read with much interest of the announcement of the marriage of Miss Jean Hollingsworth, of Greensburg, Pa., and Mr. Charles Wegner, of Teruntum, Pa.

The ceremony was performed at high noon, Saturday, August the twenty-third at Greensburg, with only members of the immediate families as guests. Plans for a wedding were changed following the recent death of the groom's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Wegner left for an extended auto trip through the East, returning the first of September to Teruntum, where they will be at home to their friends after the third of the month.

The bride will be remembered by a host of friends in this city, as a charming young woman, and possessing an unusually sweet and prano voice. She was a member of the Cecilians and lent much assistance to the choir of the local Presbyterian churches.

At her home in Millwood, Miss Beatrice White celebrated her fourteenth birthday with a pretty party Friday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent by nine of her girl friends.

A dainty lunch was served at five-thirty. The evening was spent in games and contests in which Miss Edna Dowler won the prize.

Those enjoying the affair with the hostess were: Misses Alva Fink, Edna Dowler, Minnie Harper, Dorothy Crook, Thelma Davis, Helen Counts, Doris Tracey, Opal White, Ruth Davis.

Honoring Miss Mary Hagler's guest Miss Wyldine Jones, of Jackson, a jolly crowd of young people motored to the popular picnic grounds at Monroe Falls Friday evening, and enjoyed a picnic.

In the party with Miss Hagler and guest were: Misses Ruth Hagler, Helen McKee, Mary Hanna Bliss, Eleanor Jones, Elizabeth McDonald, Helen Durant, Marie and Lorie Robinson and Dorothy Dill, Ira Barchet, Charles Fabb, David Craig, Walter Weaver, Arthur Rockrock, Joseph Wilson, Jesse Hagler, Arnold Shoop, M. Grove Davis and Walter Fultz.

Local interest in Tom Skeyhill, the soldier poet of the Anzaacs, who addressed the Chautauqua on Thursday night, is accentuated by learning that the osteopathic physician who affected the miraculous restoration of his eyesight was a classmate of Dr. C. C. Hazard. The young soldier was blinded as a result of a shell shock at Gallipoli—the story of his bravery and experiences in regaining his eyesight under osteopathic treatment is full of interest.

Friday night witnessed a special meeting of Royal Chapter No. 29, O. E. S., at the Masonic Temple, an occasion of notable interest.

The work was put on by the Past Worthy Matrons, Mrs. Eva J. Penn, Past Worthy Grand Matron, filling the office of Acting Worthy Matron with the gracious dignity which is always so effective in her presiding, and W. L. Herron the office of Past Worthy Patron.

The work was most beautifully given, with marked impressiveness. There were four candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taggart, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Buschang.

A delightful social hour with a dainty luncheon served, followed in the banquet hall. The tea table was very pretty, its central adornment marigolds.

Mrs. G. M. Paul was in charge of the social hour.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Brannon, of Chicago and Mrs. Boylan, Worthy Matron, La Pierre, Mich., chapter, were appreciated guests and gave short talks.

These golden brown biscuit—you know the kind—flaky, golden, feathery—and so piping hot that the butter melts deliciously into the crisp halves—I made with Every Day Milk.

You can make yours like these, too, if you have learned this new and better way of cooking with Every Day Milk. It is twice as rich as dairy milk and far cheaper than cream.

I found out that one bright tin of Every Day Milk had in it all the cream, all the butter-fat, all the nourishment, of over a quart of rich milk. Only most of the water had been taken out, making it richer and creamier—nothing had been added.

Your children will grow strong on it—the family will want it in coffee—or on cereals—it is perfect for cooking—always handy—always fresh—always economical—always the same delicious cream-like flavor—"every day."

Be independent of the ice man and the milk man. Every day use Every Day—the safe and pure milk.

Y. M. C. A. CORNER

Every person has a past record, and so has every institution. There is no individual human record without its flaws, and the same is of course true of all humanly regulated institutions.

We are very prone to follow that line of least resistance where we constantly deplore the mistakes of the past. It takes no brains to criticize and find fault, but it does take a considerable amount of "gray matter" to conceive, propose and execute a constructive program.

It is the easiest thing in the world to be a kicker, but it takes brains and patience as well as grace to be a real booster. The writer is simply taking time by the fore-lock. Human nature is the same in Washington C. H. as in any other place, and if in this city there are not those who think that the Y. M. C. A. has been a failure and has been poorly managed, etc., then Washington C. H. is a little bit nearer heaven than any other place on earth.

The past has a service to perform. Experience, when properly used, is one of the greatest assets of life. As we all know, the successful business man profits by experience and acts accordingly. There is no disgrace in making mistakes in the pursuit of a worthy goal, approached in an honorable way. Where we are subject to criticism is in making the same mistake twice. The past is past, let us extract the true essence of worthwhile experience; then forget the past; look the present squarely in the face; get a vision of the future; best of all, take God into our work and with courage and enthusiasm attempt greater things than we ever have done.

Our churches are well manned and they are doing a fine piece of work. The Y. M. C. A. is the Church at work in a specific work for the manhood of the community. It has been recognized that the average individual church fails when it attempts institutional work. The average church does not have the means to do institutional work. But all of the churches of the community can very advantageously combine to do a worthwhile piece of work. The Y. M. C. A. is the arm of the church and should be always so recognized. What we want to do in this field of endeavor, is to all combine intelligently, not to duplicate efforts and spend ourselves in a lot of waste motion, but to use our heads to analyze the situation and to suit the coming program to the needs of the situation. With such a program, the product of intelligent, heartfelt interest, this institution in our midst cannot help but be a blessing to the world.

FORREST L. FRASER,
Gen. Sec'y. Y. M. C. A.

SUDDEN DEATH SHOCKS FAMILY AND FRIENDS

The shocking news reached this city Friday noon that Mr. S. L. Watts, formerly residing in this county, had dropped dead at his home at Harris Station, Friday morning, while preparing to go to the home of his son, T. P. Watts, of Danville.

For a number of years the Watts family lived at the W. R. Smith home, near town, on the Columbus pike, and prior to that in Paint township, and a widely extended circle of friends will learn of his sudden death with great regret and sympathy for the family in the shock and grief of their bereavement.

Mr. Watts was a kindly, gentle man, who was held in high regard in the communities with which he had been connected.

A wife and two sons, T. P. Watts, on whose farm at Harris Station the family has been living, and Al Watts. The former son was reached at London and with his wife and son Leonard, went at once to the sad home.

CHARGE DISMISSED BY MAYOR CREAMER

After a hearing which occupied several hours Friday afternoon, Mayor U. G. Creamer of Jeffersonville dismissed the case in which Mrs. Carl Miller was accused of selling spoiled eggs to a man in Jeffersonville, the evidence not supporting the charge filed by the state Dairy & Food inspector.

The State was represented by Prosecutor Harry M. Rankin, and the accused was represented by Attorney J. D. Post.

About one dozen witnesses were examined.

BOOKIES FINED

Three bookmakers operating at the County Fair, Wednesday, were introduced to Mayor Gordin who fined and costed one of them to the tune of $100 and the others to $15 each. ## CONVENTION OF BAPTISTS

The Clinton Baptist Association which has come to a close in Hillsboro—the first of the conventions held in that city for 13 years—was one of the most interesting in recent years. The church in which the convention was held has recently installed a new pipe organ, and this added to the effectiveness of the convention music.

In the absence of President Harry Wood, of this city, O. B. Gross, of Hillsboro, the Baptist Sunday School leader of the district, took charge and in a clever address presented Moderator McCune with a genuine brass key, of large dimensions, declaring it was the "key to the city, to the church and to the hearts of the people of Hillsboro." It was hung in front of the pulpit as a sort of "good luck" token for the convention, amid hearty applause by the people.

Rev. Leo Brown, recently returned from France to his home in Greenfield, spoke on the subject, "The Church and the Bible School," bringing a helpful message. Dr. J. H. Hollingsworth gave an address, his theme being, "Service and Sacrifice." Mrs. Julia C. Walker, of Plain City, spoke interestingly on "Missions."

Rev. Hendershot, of Blanchester, presided at the evening service, which was opened with a beautiful solo, "The Holy City," by Mrs. Ella Storer Coffman. Rev. Vernon Phillips, pastor of a Columbus Baptist church, gave a very strong address on the subject, "Giants," with a special appeal to young people.

Rev. Singheiser, pastor of the English language churches of Burma, spoke at one of the sessions of the meeting, holding the attention of his audience very closely for some time, the correspondent says.

"The Glory of the Commonplace" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. J. R. Lunford, former pastor of the Baptist Church in this city. The progress of the Kingdom has been accomplished through the working of the small things of the universe, the pastor showed.

Rev. Vernon, of Wilmington, closed the afternoon session Thursday, with a stirring address on the subject "The Overflowing Cup."

CAPT. JOHN BYBEE DIES IN KANSAS

Word has been received by friends in this city of the death at Leavenworth, Kansas, of John C. Bybee, a former resident of this county and a civil war veteran. He was the son of Jos. Bybee, and his service record shows that in 1863 at the age of 20 he volunteered for three years and became a member of Company A, 1st Ohio Cavalry, then the escort of General Kirkpatrick, the famous cavalry commander. During the spring company A was actively engaged about Richmond, Va., and was then sent to the southwestern division centering about Nashville, then being defeated by Confederate forces under General Hood.

While detailed as orderly to General Sherman's headquarters and during action Private Bybee captured an ordnance wagon equipped with a Confederate flag, or standard.

Following recommendation from officers at headquarters he was promoted to rank of First Lieutenant and assigned to Company D, 187th O. V. I. He was again promoted to the rank of captain November 19, 1865 and transferred to company B of the same regiment in command of which he remained until mustered out on January 20th, 1866 at Macon, Ga.

The recent years of his life have been spent in Missouri and Kansas. A wife, two daughters and one son survive him.
